MIRAGE

1964

Volume XXV
New Haven High School
New Haven, Indiana

All doors were important to us in our search for success. We journeyed through doors of classes, friendship, and inexperience. Each new word we added to our vocabulary, each new smile, and each new encounter had a lasting and enriching effect on our lives.

Incentive from our parents, teachers, and friends, along with pride in ourselves and our school, were the reasons for the long hours of labor and the sacrifices that we made.

Confidence in our fellow students, whether it was the team or the supporters in the stands, made us raise the roof with school yells and congratulate our boys even when a game was lost.

All of these we remember with fondness. All of these have made us better citizens of tomorrow. All of these—

It's hillbilly time, as these two girls groce the scene with their "unique" costumes.

KEYS THAT UNLOCKED

All gathered 'round as several New Havenites presented a wide variety of enjoyable talent at this year's Halloween party.

The first occurrence of a hootenanny lent a note of originality to this year's Student Council Halloween party. Featured were amateur and professional talent. There was also a dance in the girls' gym.

Another Student Council-sponsored event was New Haven's annual Christmas dance, the Snowball Hop. This year's theme, "Winterlude," was carried out with decorations denoting an old-fashioned Christmas. Music was provided for dancing in the cafeteria while refreshments were served in the girls' gym.

Adults and students alike attend the Halloween supper sponsored by the P.T.A.

As the evening progressed, the students took time out to enjoy refreshments.

Students danced to the music of Jimmy Stier and his orchestra from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

OUR SOCIAL LIVES

Student Council members lend energy to the task of "Winterlude" decorating.

Miniature orchids enhanced the beauty of the Scottish Rite Ballroom on Saturday evening, May 11, 1963. The ladies and gentlemen of New Haven High were decked out in their finest ball gowns and formal attire. From 8:30 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. couples glided across the spacious floor. At 1:00 a.m. everyone gathered at Goeglein's Barn for the after-prom party which continued until 5:00 a.m. Tired and exhausted from an exciting evening well-spent, everyone looked forward to the next prom.

Poul Kenny's Orchestra provided music for the festive evening.

In between dances there was plenty of time to renew acquaintances with former NHHS students and visit with friends.

Beth Stebing and Kent Goeglein were the royal crown bearers.

They come to dance, and dance they did.

The 1962 King and Queen pass the crowns on to the recipients of 1963. Leonard Guthrie, Irene Mervine, Steve Bailey, Diono Rice, Beth Stebing, Twila Watkins, Karen Havgusrud, John Skinner, Bruce Hazelett, Sandra Broake, Steve Hobbs, Roslynn Weisenburger, Wayne Augenstein.

Tables and chairs gave resting places for punch and cookies and tired feet.

Karen and John on their way to the ceremonial crowning.

As noon hour presents itself, smiles accompany the students as they file into the cafeteria to receive lunch.

Smiles make their appearance as the students patronize the con-teen, which is operated during the noon hour by various school organizations.

SMILES ACCOMPANIED LEISURE MOMENTS

Outside of class, students find themselves enjoying dinner time laughter.

Noon hour and the lunch line make an array of smiles evident as students pick up their trays and silverware.

RUDY'S

Laughter and smiles often serve as a fundamental basis for a well-rounded student body. The carefree and leisure moments experienced by the New Haven students are a welcomed part of school life. We learn to attach to these moments a set of values, for we strive to experience them in the proper portion. Laughter breaks the simple routine of daily life as it finds its way into the classrooms, halls, and spirit of those at New Haven. A cheery hello, pleasing smile, or a witty remark strike a note of pleasure with all as the year passes by. We at New Haven are grateful for these priceless moments.

Although it appears to be frustrating, these girls find that smiles creep into such moments as this.

Last night's homework is often finished during the noon hour.

Oh boy, food!

A student's work is never done, but there are many bright spots to make it fun. Several of our clubs sponsor projects for the benefit of others. The rewards for hard work are numerous. The door to maturity and good leadership is opened gradually with each student's participation. Though a great deal of responsibility is involved, all who participate enjoy sharing with others whether it be knowledge, food, enthusiasm, or laughter.

This M & G pep session presented a break in the steady flow of knowledge and gove spirit to our basketball game.

Like newly invested knights, these new National Honor members receive the high rewards for hard work and good leadership.

Students united in a project of shoring at Thanksgiving.

Many old worn out text books were gathered by the National Honor Society and sent overseas where they are so badly needed.

Compliments of
GOEGLIN'S KERCHVAL RESERVE

Study time is well used in the library.

Junior class officers begin planning for the junior prom.

A bit of humor is added to the hall by Tom Swifite sayings.

Student Council holds rummage sale of post hop decorations.

The earthen path through Schnelker Park is a wisely used short cut for early and late comers alike.

WALKERS, RIDERS, DRIVERS LEARN PUNCTUALITY

At 3:10 students take their lives in their hands when attempting to board the bus.

A last minute disaster may be the apex of a morning started off-schedule.

COMPLIMENTS OF PAGODA INN
U.S. 30 East, Fort Wayne, Indiana

School responsibilities help to instill punctuality in the students of New Haven High. The importance of this asset will soon be apparent to those entering the working world as emphasis is placed on attendance as well as the right attitude.

ADMINISTRATION

MR. PAUL HARDING, Superintendent of New Haven Public Schools.

MR. STANLEY GUENTHER, Associate Superintendent of New Haven Public Schools.

New Haven's School Board members are Herbert P. Brudi, Treasurer; James A. Schnelker, Secretary; Donald R. Johnson, President; Walter M. Oehler, Member; Mrs. Mary A. Emehiser, Member.

MR. MAYNARD HENWOOD, Senior High Principal.

MR. JOHN H. YOUNG, Building Consultant, Administration Supervisor.

MR. MICHAEL J. BONAHOOM, Assistant Principal.

MR. SCOTT ARMSTRONG, Junior High Principal.

Our Guidance Department consists of MRS. JOANNE LANTZ, MR. PAUL J. ARMSTRONG, and MR. PAUL F. GOEGLIN.

MRS. DORIS FOX, school nurse; MR. JOHN REIFSNIDER, speech and hearing therapist.

The secretaries, IMOGENE BRUBAKER, CATHRYN LIPPOTT, and IONA RICHART, are an important part of the school's efficiency.

Pride can be taken in New Haven's appearance because of the fine services of KENNETH HANEFELD, VIOLA CARTER, CHARLES ROEMER, CORNELIUS HENDRICKSON, and ORVAL KAIN, the custadians.

FACULTY

Teachers support school functions such as the Prom.

The Halloween Party brings informal moments.

The New Haven faculty has been growing steadily in proportion to the rate of student body increase and is now comprised of 50 teachers. New teachers have been added in the language, math, social science, and business fields, which indicates added interest in these areas. One of our science teachers, Mr. Kenneth Bandelier, has taken a temporary leave of absence in order to gain additional training.

The faculty members not only instruct their classes but serve in various added capacities which contribute to the student body's general well-being. Many serve as organization and class sponsors or advisors and guide school activities toward a successful conclusion. These efforts are appreciated by the student body and the administration.

Sparting events are viewed by enthusiastic teachers.

Noon hours allow a brief deviation during a busy day.

CLASSES

The English Department of New Haven High School provides the essentials of English grammar and usage which will benefit the students in the years after graduation. The literature classes expose the students to a background of the various types of literary writings.

Students of the speech classes acquire more experience and confidence in relating their ideas to others.

English serves as the basis of life, and here students are taught all the factors of the subject.

All eyes are glued to the board as Mrs. Null reviews a few aspects of American Literature.

The methods of speaking that these students learn in debate will be of great aid in future years.

An unlimited amount of knowledge can be obtained in the library.

Dan Rice practices the technique of public speaking.

NATIVE TONGUE—VITAL, NECESSARY EVEN IN FOREIGN LANDS

German class.

French class.

Group translation promotes better comprehension of languages.

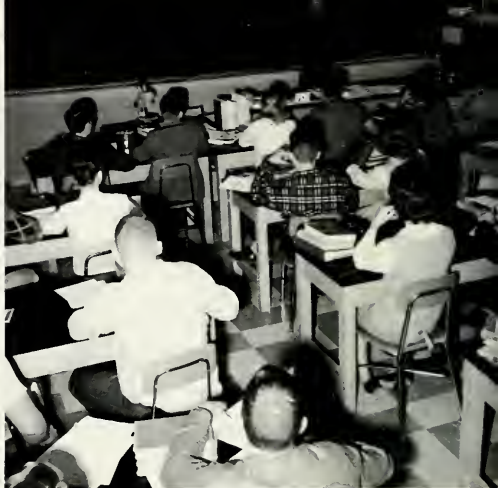

The language teachers—Miss Burke, Mrs. Rogers, Mr. Seger, and Mr. Steinbach—instruct their students regarding the language, customs, arts, and background of the country with which the language is associated.

A student studying a foreign language is better equipped to study our own English language, since many English words are derived from French, German, and Latin.

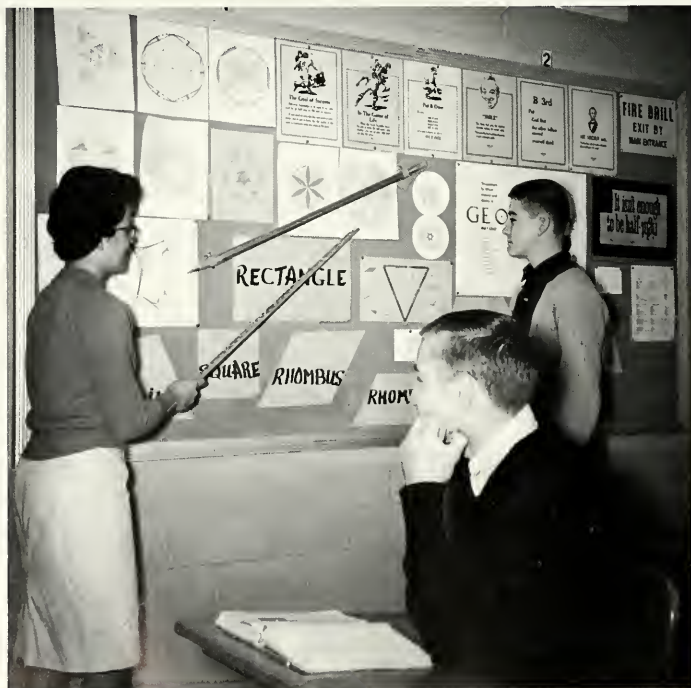

Proving a geometric theorem.

Mr. Huml demonstrates the fundamentals of math to an attentive audience.

MATH AND SCIENCE—PROMISE OF TOMORROW

Students study geometric figures and designs on the bulletin board.

Students of today, leaders of tomorrow are encouraged to meet new goals in the science department, through courses such as biology, chemistry, physics, botany, and zoology. Through these courses students learn about the world in which they live. They also learn what their own bodies contain and how each of their systems and organs function. They are trained in these courses by skilled teachers and modern teaching equipment.

The mathematics department also encourages the students to be leaders of tomorrow. Algebra, geometry, and more advanced courses teach the students to think for themselves and solve problems that confront them in classrooms and in real life situations. The students in the math department learn by doing.

Again, students aren't just born leaders. They achieve goals through hard work and experience in both the science and math departments.

Practical experience in a shop class may lead to a trade school or just a spare time hobby.

Industrial arts covers these major fields: machine shop, wood working and drafting. Students learn the different types, properties, and treatments for each medium. Biology even enters the picture, as students learn the growing processes of different woods. They also learn the various techniques in construction through tools and machines. Students must draft plans, select their materials, and decide on the means of construction for individual projects.

Home economics classes not only learn the essentials of cooking but also learn techniques in sewing, home management, and home nursing. Some home management classes have even chosen interiors for a Delegrange model home. I&M furnished several modern appliances to be used in class work. Students are divided into families and must prepare menus for their group. They are graded on assembly of meals, quality of meals, and how well they work together. Families must prepare the meals together, eat them, and clean up afterwards. Through home economics future homemakers are prepared for family living.

There are always new and worthwhile experiences for a home economics student.

WHEN DELVING INTO THE ARTS

Many long hours are spent in drill by the New Haven Marching Band in preparation for home-gone performances.

The NISBOVA contest requires practice, practice, practice.

Students in Miss Manifold's art class work diligently on their projects.

The music and art classes are strictly elective subjects for interested students. Just having interest, however, is not enough to qualify a student, for membership. He must have a certain grade average and some degree of potential.

These courses have been designed to allow to students to express themselves and to become better acquainted with the finer arts.

Two basic features stand out in the various arts offered at NHHS. One is that students learn to combine their efforts and work with a destination in mind. Another is the opportunity to excel as an individual. There is always plenty of competition.

DOWN TO BUSINESS

The business curriculum at New Haven serves as excellent preparation for the secretaries and businessmen of tomorrow. Commercial students gain skill and knowledge in various subjects such as typing, shorthand, bookkeeping and business law. These students are also great assets to the school, because they are able to help with the office work and to relieve the teachers of some of their many duties.

Sometimes adding machines are fun to use, but in the picture, the girls find them helpful for salving a column of bookkeeping.

One of the advanced typing classes is shown as the students are diligently warming up for a ten-minute timed writing.

Diligent shorthand transcription is demonstrated by these girls who are trying to get their lessons done before the bell rings.

AND DOWN TO EARTH

Through social studies the high school students become better acquainted with the responsibilities of American citizens and thus are better prepared to fulfill their positions in our nation's government. Courses such as psychology and sociology help the students improve their relationships with others and equip them for the problems that will confront them in their future lives!

Dove Hathaway gives on up-to-date report on a current event.

World history class observes Mr. Zapp as he demonstrates his lecture with map locations.

Students discover things they never knew about the U.S. in history class.

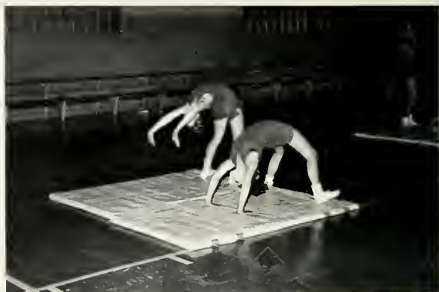

Miss Levenberger establishes a location on the government map to emphasize an important fact.

GYM PROMOTES SPORTSMANSHIP—EXERCISE

Physical Education is just part of the total development of an individual. Through games and activities a person is developed socially, emotionally, and mentally as well as physically. It builds leaders, team work, citizenship, fair play, good sportsmanship and the incentive to win, or better yet, to do your best at all times.

Sports that are brought about in physical education classes are Volleyball, Basketball, Tumbling, Soccer, Wrestling, Baseball, Field Hackey, La Cross, Rugby, Gymnastics, Football, Marching and many others.

These girls have to bend over backwards to receive an "A" grade.

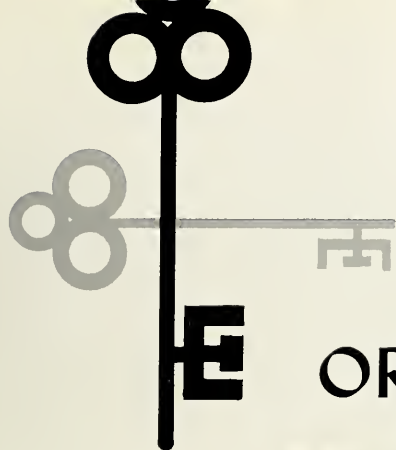

The trampoline is a favorite sport to many of the girls.

Calisthenics are forms of warm-ups to an activity, but they also instill into the boys the sense of physical improvement and the knowledge of what to do to improve themselves.

Masque & Gavel, under the direction of Mr. May, Mr. Baylan, and Mr. Sinn, provide the student body of New Haven High School with entertainment the year round. In early November, in joint co-operation with NFL, Masque and Gavel helps sponsor the New Haven Speech Tournament. The thirty-seven members present three one-act plays annually, an assembly, and finally the biggest event for Masque and Gavel, the three-act play. This year's one-act plays include "Bachelor of the Year," "Ruffles and Roller Skates," and "Last Night's Paper." The Speakers' Bureau committee actively seeks engagements for the one-act performances throughout the course of the year.

NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE

National Forensic League, more commonly referred to as NFL, is an organization devoted to the perfected use of speech. During the year, NFL members participate in numerous invitational tournaments and debates. Speeches are divided according to area or type of presentation. Speech divisions include Humorous, Dramatic, Original Oratory, Oratorical, Poetry, Girls' & Boys' Extemporaneous, Discussion, Girls' & Boys' Radio, and Debate. Due to able guidance and coaching, on the part of Mr. May, Mr. Boylan, Mr. Sinn, and Mr. Price, the New Haven speech team placed first at the 8th annual New Haven Speech Tournament. The officers of NFL are Karen Haugsrud, President; Anita Silvey, Secretary, and Steve Penrod, Treasurer.

The 1962-1963 speech team did well in bringing home the awards. This picture represents the total awards for that year.

At the annual NFL assembly Mr. Henwood again accepted speech trophies representing an active and deserving speech department.

CONCERT CHOIR

This is one of the top choirs in the state of Indiana. The choir is composed of eighty-three selected people. They perform for school assemblies, service and civic groups, produce two public concerts, appear on television, and participate in the solo and ensemble auditions and the choir contest sponsored by the Northern Indiana School Bond, Orchestra, and Vocal Association. This year they will attempt to earn their seventh consecutive first division rating at the choir contest.

This year the choir department acquired new risers to accommodate the ever-increasing choirs and a musical instrument called a celesta.

Although the Girls' Glee Club is only three years old, it has gained a reputation as an outstanding vocal group. This year's Glee Club numbers fifty-nine selected voices. They have performed for the school assembly programs and for several of the service and civic groups of the New Haven and Fort Wayne area.

Several members of the Glee Club are participants in the solo and ensemble auditions sponsored by the Northern Indiana School Band, Orchestra, and Vocal Association. The Glee Club will enter the choir contest in the spring and try to earn their third consecutive first division rating.

FUTURE TEACHERS—FUTURE NURSES

Future Teachers is a nationally affiliated organization, sponsored by Mr. Beugnot. Its purpose is to explore the facets of the teaching profession with its opportunities, duties, and benefits. The organization promotes a teacher-aid program and information program. The organization holds a banquet at the end of the year and gives awards to the two seniors who have contributed the most to the club.

Future Nurses, sponsored by Mrs. Troyer, is one of three such organizations in northern Indiana. The Club is open to all girls interested in nursing as a future vocation and centers its programs around building and stimulating this interest with reports on various nursing programs. This year's activities included formal initiation of new members, an after-gone dance, a trip to State School, and a special service project climaxed by the Mother-Daughter Banquet and installation of new officers at the end of the year.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The communication link between the student body and the administration is the Student Council which is composed of an elected member from each homeroom, a member-at-large from the Senior class, and four officers. From the politics of the election last spring came the present Student Council officers who are Edie Sallot (President), Rick Mainord (Vice-President), Dee Rice (Secretary), and Linda Richhart (Treasurer). In the busy second weeks of school the Council put up fire signs and elected the Reserve cheerleaders. The new records for the aftergame dances are purchased each month by the Student Council. After completing the plans for the Halloween party, the Council industriously began to prepare the Snowball Hop. The "Winterlude" theme was presented with cozy, old-fashioned Christmas decorations. The latter half of the year is reserved for a project, varsity cheerleading elections, and campaigns for the spring election of officers.

Lorraine Halden and Kathy Kummer are seen putting the finishing touches on the Snowball Hop decorations.

Student Council members turn the gym into a candle-lit cafe.

SCIENCE CLUB

The objective of Phi-Chi Science Club is to learn about, explore, stimulate, and cultivate an interest in science activities. Potential scientists are skillfully guided by the sponsors—Mr. Hunnings, Mr. Wolfe, Mr. Kyle, Mr. Wilder, Mr. Sauders, and Mr. Shilling—in the section of the student's primary interest. This year this organization has its merit system in full swing with pins and trophies given as awards. This year's activities included the New Haven Public School science fair, regular meetings with films and speakers, a trip, running the coat-check booth, and the annual banquet in the spring.

Steve Penrod and David Foltz plan a debate on the value of taking Latin.

The Latin Club, "Societas Classeca," or the Junior Classical League is sponsored by the American Classical League, which strives to keep interest in the classical civilizations alive. Latin Club fulfills this purpose with its programs on Roman history, customs, and emphasis on the importance of the Latin language. Sponsored by Mrs. Ragers and Mr. Seger, Latin Club has a membership of 260, making it one of the largest in Indiana. This year the Latin Club attended the J. C. L. convention at Terre Haute, helped send textbooks to the Philippines, and gave a scholarship to the senior most interested in teaching Latin.

Pat Albert and Jane Woodcox work with their annual projects for Latin class.

The finishing touches are added to these projects by Lynne Holden and Bob McConnell.

"Le Jacquerie," sponsored by Miss Burke, is open to all French students interested in increasing their knowledge of French culture and language! This year French Club co-sponsored an after-game dance, participated in the Christmas assembly, and staged a victory celebration commemorating Napoleon in which all French students came dressed in the garb of nineteenth century France.

Any sophomore, junior, or senior taking senior or third year German is eligible for membership in German Club. Sponsored by Mr. Steinbach, this organization seeks to give its members a clearer understanding of the history and customs of Germany. This year the club helped with the Christmas party, ran the canteen, and held a banquet.

German students hold a private session with Mr. Steinbach.

Projectionists' Club, sponsored by Mr. Huml, is primarily a service organization in which the members learn to operate and maintain projectors, tape recorders, and record players for the purpose of assisting teachers. HI-Y

The purpose of Hi-Y, organized six years ago in affiliation with the Y.M.C.A., is to create, maintain, and extend high Christian ideals throughout school, home, and community. This year's main project is building for brotherhood in foreign lands through the Y.M.C.A.'s World Service Fund. The organization meets twice a month—once at school and once at the New Haven Methodist Church. This year Hi-Y, sponsored by Mr. Stebing, helped send books to the Phillipines, participated in the Easter assembly, held a best-girl banquet in the spring, and for the first time sent a delegate, Bob Armstrong, to the National Convention.

Hi-Y, along with Y-Teens, delivered baskets of Thanksgiving food to the New Haven community. This annual event brought the spirit of Thanksgiving to all who participated.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

President—J. Harkenrider; Vice-Pres.—M. Hirschman; Secretary—J. Kennerk; Treasurer—S. Overtan; Point Recarders—M. Dumford, M. Knipstein.

The Girls' Athletic Association, an organization for all high school girls, aids in improving sportsmanship, skills, and knowledge of a wide range of sports. This range includes archery, basketball, bowling, swimming, tennis, trampoline, and volleyball.

Points accumulated throughout the year determine awards to be given at the annual spring banquet or picnic. The point requirements are: 50—Card; 100—Little "N"; 150—Pin; 250—Big "N"; 350—Plaque; 400—Trophy.

The officers, who are elected in the spring, work with the sponsor, Miss Berkeypile, to promote better sportsmanship and knowledge of skills.

CHEERLEADERS

Varsity Cheerleaders: Koren Haugrud, Debbie Bearman, Miriam Werling, Linda Richhart, and Sherry Baker.

Five varsity cheerleaders are elected in the spring of each school year by the student body on the basis of such traits as enthusiasm, coordination, and appearance. Three reserve cheerleaders are elected in the fall by the Student Council and its sponsors on the same merits. It is the responsibility of the cheerleaders to attend all football and basketball games, to plan pep sessions, and to arouse school spirit and enthusiasm by leading the Pep Clubs and the student body in actively supporting New Haven's athletic teams.

Reserve Cheerleaders: Kathy Krummer, Rosanne Harmann, and Bev Ranberg.

To build a championship football team it takes a lot of work. Practice first began in the middle of August. The boys practiced twice a day until school started. The main purpose of these practices were to get the boys in shape and ready to play football.

Once school started the team practiced every night after school at about 3:30 p.m. Practice lasted between two and three hours. As the season progressed practice consisted mostly of getting prepared Track season begins immediately at the end of basketball season. The performances in track depend a lot on the weather. The track team practices inside until warm weather comes.

The events in track consist of 100 yd. dash, 220 yd. dash, 440 yd. dash, 880 yd. run, mile run, 120 yd. high hurdles, 180 yd. low hurdles, broad jump, high jump, pole vault, shot put, mile relay, and half-mile relay.

During practice the team works on conditioning and each member's individual event. The first part of practice is devoted to loosening up and working on events. The last part is devoted to challenging for positions in the next meet and conditioning.

The highlights of the track season are the NEIC Conference Meet, New Haven Relays, and the State Track Meet.

Cross Country is a sport which is often considered to be less demanding than others. This is a fallacy! A good cross country runner must possess great desire and determination.

Cross Country practice begins in the middle of August. Most of the practice time until school starts consists of getting the feet, legs, and lungs in shape. To make the team, a runner must cover the qualifying course, which is about 2½ miles, in less than twenty minutes.

When school begins in the fall, daily practice sessions are scheduled, which last about two hours. In practice on individual runs about five or six miles. The meets are held at either Shoaff Park or Franke Park and the course is about two miles long.

The Cross Country team won seven meets in the regular season and lost two, finished eighth in the Shortridge Invitational, first in the NEIAC, and fifth in the Sectional.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

ROW 1: B. Rohrbacher, J. Priest, D. Nietert, R. Maady, N. Ellenberger, coach, J. Skinner, N. Carnes, D. Herman, S. Bailey, S. Augenstein. ROW 2: D. McClure, G. Lake.

Basketball season is the longest sport season during the school year. It begins in November and ends in February with the State Basketball Tournament. During this period New Haven plays between twenty and twenty-five games.

Practice starts immediately after school in the High School gym. The first part of practice is devoted to shooting. The next part is devoted to working on defense and offense. Practice sessions usually end with scrimmages and some conditioning exercises.

Most of the games are played on Friday or Saturday nights. At this time the gym is usually packed with fans who have what experts call "Hoosier Hysteria."

RESERVE BASKETBALL

ROW 1: D. Boester, J. Schmutz, D. Foltz, G. Parnin, L. Feichter, B. Wiant, coach. ROW 2: D. Dew, M. Lepper, J. Howell, S. Ernst, M. Mason.

The function of the reserve basketball squad is not evident to many people. Often the reserve game is considered as a mere preliminary to the "main event" but it means much more than that. It is here that the future hardwood stars of New Haven receive their training. It is here that they receive their initiation into the rigors of competition with other players of equal or superior ability and learn to adapt themselves to competitive situations.

In truth, the basketball future of our school is determined by the performance of these reserve squads and the quality of instruction they receive from their coach. It behooves us, as loyal fans, to give them the support and encouragement they so rightfully deserve!

INTRAMURALS

Intramurals are just a part of the total program of Physical Education. Intramurals are organized, give individuals the same competition as varsity athletics plus leadership, teamwork, etc., but do not involve instruction as does Physical Education.

Intramurals serve as a good outlet for boys who can not make school teams; it can serve as a feeder system if employed early in the school development.

Intramurals involve such sports as Flag Football, Basketball, Volleyball, Golf, Bowling, Tennis, Baseball, etc. Each of these sports are played just as hard and intelligently as the varsity school participant plays his sport.

Bowling

ROW 1: S. Forrester, T. Eisenbarger, J. Spears, R. Weidler, J. Meyers, J. Wanderly, B. Griggs, H. McCard, C. Bushkill, M. Moore. ROW 2: K. Thomas II, D. Kite, R. Marquis, S. Filler, R. Williams, G. Marshall, B. Klage, J. Alkire. ROW 3: B. Mellan, R. Snider, R. Gengo.

Golf

J. Allspough, D. Allard, J. Wonderly, and M. Lee.

Volleyball (Spring, 1963)

ROW 1: T. Murphy, B. Fox, E. Saalfank, B. Hazelett. ROW 2: D. Hellinger, R. Emrick, B. Circle.

Football

ROW 1: L. Bandelier, L. Turley, D. Decker. ROW 2: W. Scheumann, B. Ronk, D. Dressler, R. Knape.

WRESTLING

ROW 1: Mr. Hostettler, coach, G. Reiling, J. Downey, D. Osdale, E. Fox, C. Bode, S. Hobbs, S. Mosel, Mr. Thomas, coach. ROW 2: J. Suci, student manager, T. Hetrick, R. Dressler, G. Stahl, S. Yeoman, J. Keeler, J. Voigt, D. Wylie, student manager.

Wrestling is a sport about which most people know little. This sport is nothing like the wrestling you see on television; it is scientific wrestling. Wrestling is not a sport for a person who is not intelligent and physically fit.

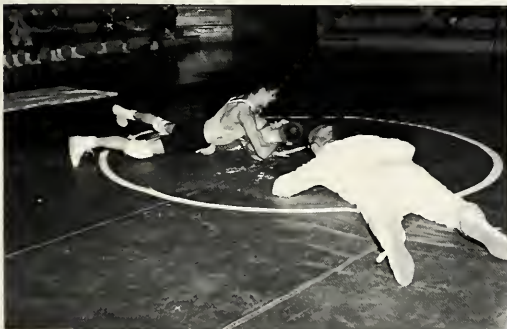

It takes a great deal of conditioning to get in shape for a wrestling match. Practice starts immediately after school in the rifle range. Practice begins with some loosening up exercises. Then the wrestlers work on various techniques and holds which they use in a match. Practice ends up with some conditioning exercises.

Wrestling season begins in early December and ends in February with the State Wrestling Tournament.

BASEBALL

ROW 1: N. Ellenberger, Coach, M. Armstrong, S. Hobbs, B. Armstrong, M. Federspiel, N. Cornes, B. Rahrbocher, and P. Armstrong, Coach. ROW 2: R. Ternet, student manager, R. Nash, K. Buuck, R. Lee, B. Fox, E. Fox, S. Bailey, D. Herman, D. McCay, and H. Bondelier, student manager. ROW 3: B. Stemmeler, S. Augenstein, M. Hook, D. Lewis, R. Emerick, B. Circle, S. Hosier, and R. Eiter.

As the warmer weather arrives, so does baseball. Baseball is a sport in which warm weather is essential. Practice starts immediately after the end of the State Basketball Tournament. The first couple of weeks of practice is usually held in the gym. When the warm weather comes, practice moves to the baseball diamond.

The first part of practice is devoted to loosening up the arms and legs. Then the players work on hitting and fielding. The team is usually broken into three groups: outfielders, pitchers and catchers, and infielders. These groups work on the special skills required for their positions.

The first game is usually in April and the last game is played near the end of school in May.

Boys' Booster Club, sponsored by Mr. Weaver, lends masculine support to the Pep Club in backing the basketball team at all home games and pep sessions. Organized just three years ago, this organization helps contribute towards active school spirit. This year's officers are Bob Barnes, President; Russ Lee, Vice-President; and Steve Mosel, Sergeant-at-Arms.

Membership in Lettermen's Club is open to any high school athlete who wins a varsity letter in interscholastic sports. The main objective of this organization is the promotion of good sportsmanship and clean sports competition. At the completion of each season's sports an Honor Banquet is held for the presentation of awards won by the members. Sponsored by Mr. Armstrong and Mr. Thomas, Lettermen's officers are Steve Hobbs, President; Jerry Dager, Vice-President; Joe Downey, Secretary; and Russ Lee, Treasurer.

The four years which loomed so uncertainly ahead of us when we were freshmen have become our friends. They have placed at our disposal many keys with which to unlock our futures.

The doors through which we have passed in high school have enabled us to fashion a master key with which to open doors of future education, vocations, and greater spiritual development.

Though invisible to us now, these keys, through the proper use, will link our school years with those yet to come—our futures.

Now the school doors are closing. For some of us this only brings a brief recess before we return to another school of some degree. For others it means good-bye to formal education as they graduate into the working world.

We have acquired the necessary keys to make the greatest use of our future lives. Whatever we do or wherever we go, the doors of learning are open forever.
